They're Still Seeing THIS AMAZING AMERICA All Over the World!

Pearl Harbor stopped sightseeing travel—turned Greyhound buses to the urgent job of carrying war-manpower. But millions—in the armed forces, in allied and neighboring nations—are still seeing the fabulous and fascinating U. S. A. in Greyhound's Technicolor film, "This Amazing America"! (More than a million people in South America alone have seen the film—it's in the U. S. Embassy at Moscow.) It is only a stop-gap for today's travel-starved millions —but after Victory, look to Greyhound for finer sight-seeing than ever, for a new high level of luxury and convenience in highway travel to all of America.

NOTE: Many schools having 16 mm. sound projectors are anxious to borrow the film, "This Amazing America." But prints are not easy to obtain—and the armed forces come first. If you like, direct your request to Greyhound Information Center, 1505 N. B. C. Building, Cleveland, Ohio—we'll do our best to fill it.

QUESTIONS educators ask about BRITANNICA JUNIOR and the correct ANSWERS

Who owns BRITANNICA JUNIOR?

Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.

Who edits BRITANNICA JUNIOR?

The Editor-in-Chief of the world-famous
ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA and his staff.

How often is BRITANNICA JUNIOR revised?

BRITANNICA JUNIOR undergoes continuous revision on a definite year-by-year program.

How is BRITANNICA JUNIOR different from all other juvenile encyclopaedias?

BRITANNICA JUNIOR is a reference work organized alphabetically as a true encyclopaedia with a definite objective . . . to serve exclusively the interests and needs of elementary school age children.

Does BRITANNICA JUNIOR contain articles not to be found in other juvenile reference works?

Yes, many. This is possible because the set is not "stretched" to include material of no value to elementary school children.

Why do you feature the Index of BRITANNICA JUNIOR?

Because learning to use an index is a fundamental study skill and the Index of BRITANNICA JUNIOR is designed to develop this skill. It is a fact and finding Index. It is the key to more than 3600 main articles, contains 20,000 index entries and more than 50,000 references.

How does BRITANNICA JUNIOR develop good study habits in children?

It teaches the child how to use reference materials and an index . . . to follow directions in finding material . . . to use an atlas . . . to use independent source material written for him at his own level.

Are topics in BRITANNICA JUNIOR correlated with school courses of study?

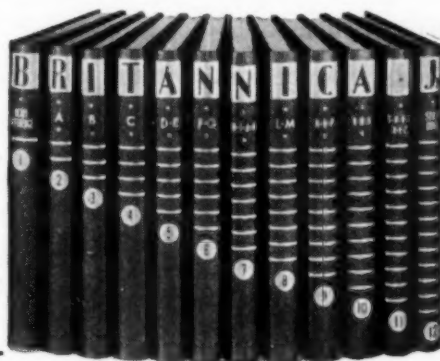

Yes. Curricular material and courses of study for every section of the United States are being studied constantly by BRITANNICA JUNIOR's editorial staff.

How abreast of the times is BRITANNICA JUNIOR?

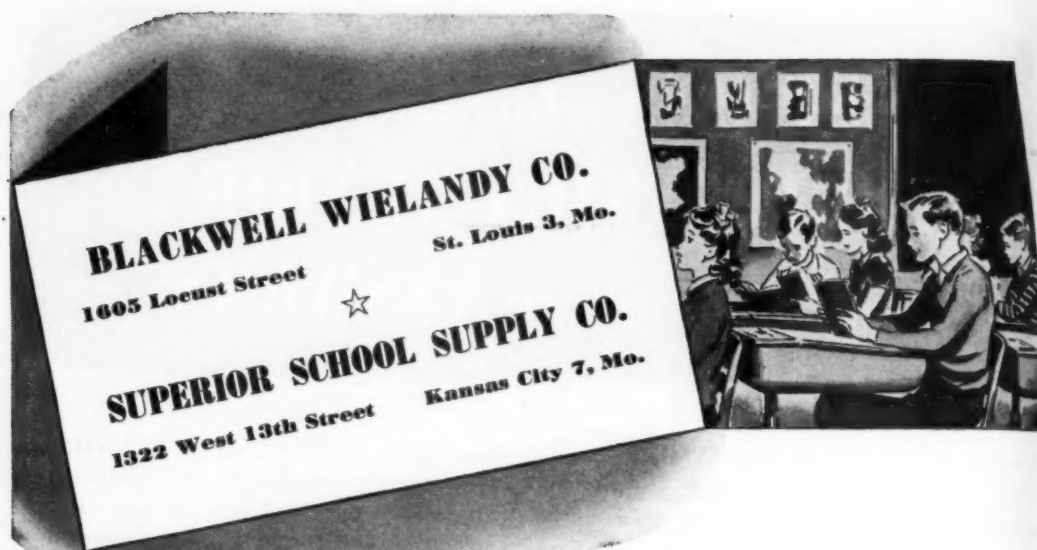

It is current at each printing.

How does the cost of a set of BRITANNICA JUNIOR compare with that of other juvenile encyclopaedias?

BRITANNICA JUNIOR is less in cost.

Federal Income Taxes in 1944

ANYONE WHO FILES a federal income tax return in 1944 must contend with the most complex income tax law that Congress has ever passed. It is the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943. The following discussion limits itself briefly to some of the principal features of the Act as they apply to individual income taxes on a calendar year basis. Many details and exceptions are omitted.

Printed instructions accompanying the income tax forms will aid materially in their preparation. There will be many perplexed taxpayers, however, who should seek the advice of an income tax consultant or make inquiry at the proper federal office. Any postmaster or banker should be able to give the location of such an office. The writer is not prepared to answer inquiries about income tax matters.

Persons Who Must File Returns. The following individuals must file federal income tax returns:

(1) A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife, whose gross taxable income for the year was $500 or more;

(2) A married person living with husband or wife for the entire taxable year, whose gross taxable income for the year, combined with that of the spouse, was $1,200 or more. (Separate returns or a joint return may be filed.)

Any individual who has a victory tax gross income in excess of $624 for the year must file a victory tax return. This return will be a part of the federal income tax return, but may be required when no federal income tax is payable. For example, if a married man living with his wife earns $900 a year and the family has no other income, he will not pay a federal income tax, but he must file a victory tax return and pay the victory tax on his income in excess of $624.

Provisions for Members of Armed Forces. If members of the armed forces are serving outside the continental United States or on sea duty, the due date for filing returns and making payment of tax is the fifteenth day of the fourth month following return to the United States or the fifteenth day of the third month following the month in which the war ends, whichever is the earlier. Filing dates for servicemen and servicewomen in this country and for civilian taxpayers are identical. Special relief is afforded members of the armed forces whose 1942 income tax was greater than their 1943 tax.

By DR. ROYAL D. M. BAUER
Professor of Accounting
University of Missouri

In addition to the credit of $500 for a single person or $1,200 for husband and wife or for the head of a family, plus the proper credit for dependents, which all taxpayers may claim, the pay received for active service by a member of the armed forces during the present war is exempt from tax to the extent of $1,500. Amounts contributed by the government to a serviceman's family allowance are in the nature of gifts and should not be included in income.

Tax Forms to be Used. Individuals who must file federal income tax returns will use either Form 1040 or Form 1040A. Every one who paid an income tax last year will presumably receive one or both of these forms by mail, but failure to receive a form does not excuse the taxpayer from making a return. He may obtain the proper form from a local internal revenue agent, or from the nearest office of a collector of internal revenue.

Form 1040 must be used if gross income was more than $3,000. It must also be used even if gross income was $3,000 or less if income includes any item other than salary, wages, other compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, or annuities. It may be used if the taxpayer prefers, even when Form 1040A might be chosen.

Form 1040A, the optional form, simplifies the work required to prepare a tax return. It may be used instead of Form 1040 only if gross income was not more than $3,000 and consisted entirely of salary, wages, other compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, or annuities. However, the taxpayer whose allowable deductions for contributions, interest, taxes, etc., are unusually large may find that his tax is higher when he uses the optional form than it is if he uses Form 1040. It is generally advisable, therefore, to compute the tax according to both forms and file the one requiring the lower amount.

Returns of Husband and Wife. A husband and wife may make a joint return or separate returns. They may file a joint return on Form 1040A if their combined gross income was not more than $3,000 and consisted entirely of salaries, etc., as listed above. They may file separate returns on Form 1040A if the gross income of each was not more than $3,000 and consisted entirely of the items listed above. Separate returns sometimes affect an income tax saving. If husband and wife file separate returns, they must both file the same form number, either Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

Tax Rates on 1943 Income. When an individual computes the federal tax on his 1943 income according to Form 1040, he must take into consideration three taxes, namely normal tax, surtax, and victory tax. On Form 1040A the normal tax and surtax are combined. The normal tax rate is 6% of the "balance subject to normal tax." Surtax rates are 13% of the first $2,000 of surtax net income, 16% of the next $2,000, and increasing rates on higher amounts until the maximum of 82% is applied on surtax net incomes in excess of $200,000. The victory tax rate is 5% of victory tax net income, less a credit (within specified maximum amounts) of 25% of the tax for a single person or 40% for a married person or the head of a family and 2% for each dependent.

Remainder Due on 1942 Tax. Federal income taxes due from individuals on 1942 incomes were "forgiven" in part by the 1943 law. Payments on the 1942 tax made in 1943 are treated as payments on the 1943 tax. If the 1943 tax is smaller than the 1942 tax, the difference must be added to the 1943 tax. In addition, the unforgiven part of the 1942 tax must be computed. This is done by taking as a base the 1942 tax or the 1943 tax, whichever is smaller. If the amount is $50 or less, it is entirely forgiven. If the amount is more than $50, either $50 or 75% of the amount, whichever is larger, is the forgiven part of the tax. The unforgiven remainder is payable in two installments on March 15, 1944, and March 15, 1945.

Estimate of Tax on 1944 Income. On or before March 15, 1944, an individual must file a declaration of estimated tax for the year 1944 if his income for either 1943 or 1944 will bring him within any one of the following groups: (a) gross wages subject to withholding amounting to more than $2,700 if single or $3,500 if married; (b) gross income of more than $100 from sources other than wages and also gross income of $500 or more from all sources if single or more than $624 each for husband and wife or $1,200 or more for husband and wife together. This estimated tax is payable in quarterly installments. An amended estimate may be made in any quarter if the amount is too large or too small. Special provisions apply to a farmer, who may file his declaration of estimated tax as late as December 15.

Time of Filing and Payment of Tax. Federal income tax returns made on the basis of the calendar year 1943 and declarations of estimated taxes for 1944 must be filed on or before March 15, 1944. At the time of filing, the taxpayer must pay the remaining unpaid balance of the following amounts: (1) normal tax, surtax, and victory tax, (2) at least 50% of the unforgiven part of the 1942 tax, and (3) at least 25% of the unpaid balance reported on the declaration of estimated tax for 1944. The taxpayer can determine his tax liability for March 15 by totaling the above taxes and deducting the following payments already made on his account in 1943: (a) income and victory tax withheld by employer, (b) income tax paid on 1942 income, and (c) tax paid on 1943 income on account of declaration of estimated tax. If the 1943 payments on a taxpayer's account exceed his total taxes due March 15, the overpayment may be refunded.

Unless a duly authorized official is available locally to accept a return and declaration of estimated tax, the taxpayer should mail the forms, with a check for the amount due, to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer's legal residence is located.

Suggestions for Reduction of 1943 Income Tax. When preparing an income tax return, great care should be exercised to exclude all tax-exempt income and report all allowable deductions. Printed instructions for Form 1040 list a number of items of income exempt from tax, such as tax-free interest on government obligations, proceeds of certain insurance policies, and gifts and inheritances. The instructions also give some explanation of various deductions under the headings of contributions, interest, taxes, losses, medical expenses, and other deductions. Additional miscellaneous expenses such as the following are deductible:

- a. Railroad fare expended in traveling from place of regular employment to place of temporary employment at summer school
- b. Traveling expenses, including meals and lodging, for professor tutoring in another city
- c. Traveling expenses of teacher on sabbatical leave who receives compensation while engaged in required traveling
- d. Amount paid substitute by regular teacher
- e. Traveling expenses incurred in attending scientific and professional society meetings
- f. Dues paid to professional societies
- g. Subscriptions to technical magazines
- h. Depreciation of professional library and professional equipment owned
- i. Depreciation and operating expenses of automobile to the extent used for business and professional purposes.

Ordinary personal, living, or family expenses may not be deducted. Examples of nondeductible expenses are: living expenses either at home or when one's position requires him to live away from home, expenses of moving one's family, traveling expenses going to and from work, life insurance premiums, upkeep of a pleasure automobile, expenses incurred in attending school, expenses incurred in seeking employment (but employment agency fees are deductible).

General Remarks. A taxpayer should keep records or memoranda of income and expenses to substantiate figures on his income tax return in case the government ever questions them. Usually it is advisable to make a full disclosure of any doubtful item, giving reasons for not including it in the return. A taxpayer should collect his information early enough to enable him to file his tax returns in ample time. Severe penalties are imposed for failing to file a required return, for late filing, and for filing a false or fraudulent return.

Approximately fifty million people will make income tax returns in 1944. If they would say to their congressmen in no uncertain-terms that they want a simpler form of income tax law, something would soon be done in this direction.

EIGHT PAGES GO TO WAR

This issue of SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY contains only forty pages instead of the usual forty-eight. The reduction in the number of pages is due to a cut ordered by the Government in order to conserve paper. We feel sure our readers will understand this when they consider some of the demands upon the paper producing industry as reflected in the following statements.

It takes 25 tons of blueprint paper to make a battleship.

Seven hundred thousand different kinds of items are shipped to the Army—and they're paper-wrapped or boxed.

Mr. Smith's Suit

FOR A LONG TIME I been intendin' to tell you about a school teacher I know. I ain't goin' to mention his name because I hate to embarrass him.

I'll just call him Mister Smith. He teaches in the high school. Last year, accordin' to some of the kids that come in here for hamburgers, Mister Smith wore the same suit all year.

He always donated to the school athletic fund, bought the school papers, gave to the Red Cross an' bought War Stamps. He was on the ration board, worked for civilian defense an' went to church to teach Sunday School on Sunday.

An' he wore the same suit to church, too, the kids told me. So I begin to sort of ask a few questions around.

It turns out that Mister Smith supports a wife an' three growin' kids of his own. He has to send a little money to his mother every month too.

The neighborhood where he had to live to get to his school was no cheap place to rent in. An' his pay was less than a coal miner's—before they work overtime, at the old rate. Thirty-odd bucks a week.

This year Mister Smith ain't teachin' school. In his place they got a crotchety ol' tyrant who sulks an' refuses to answer the questions the kids ask him. Some of the parents is even complainin'.

Mister Smith was a science teacher. So, I guess, they grabbed for him plenty quick in the war factory. He took a job as foreman an' inspector at $80 a week.

He was in here a week or two ago when some of the high-school kids was here. They swarmed all over him an' told him their troubles an' all the gossip. Anybody could see he wasn't no foreman—he was a natural born teacher—the kind you hope your own kids run into in school.

Mister Smith had on a new suit—an' looked a little uncomfortable in it.

By WALLY BOREN
Reprinted from
This Week Magazine

"Guess these youngsters kind of miss you," I said to him.

"And I miss them more," he answered me.

"I'd give the shirt off my back to get this war over with an' get back to teachin' again but I do have to think about my family . . ."

An' I got to thinkin', later, that it would be a big bargain to the taxpayers if they bought Mister Smith's next new suit—along with a few shirts for him.

Maybe we can't pay him wartime wages, but since he can take such good care of our kids, maybe we could sort of help him out in carin' for his own.

An' what's more a good school teacher ain't the easiest thing in the world to find.

ELEMENTARY PRINCIPALS OF ST. LOUIS COUNTY MEET

A meeting of the Elementary School Principals of St. Louis County District was held December 13, 1943, at the Clayton high school. The president, Mr. Simeon Christian, presided. In spite of inclement weather twenty-two members were in attendance.

The treasurer's report by Mr. V. Carl Ilgen, indicated that the organization had 45 paid up members, indicating the best percentage membership of any district of the state.

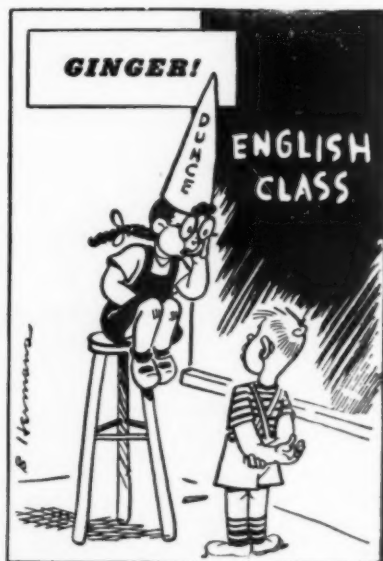

The program was introduced by Mr. Fred Brooks, who had been appointed by Mr. Ward Barnes, chairman of the Program Committee, to take charge of the evening's program. It was pertinent to the subject "The Status of the Elementary School Principal" and was discussed from the following points of view:

"The Elementary School Unit" by Ward Barnes

"The Professional Training of the Elementary School Principal" by Mabel McAllister

"The Elementary School Principal as an Educational Leader" by Mamie Reed.

A period of interesting discussion followed relative to the various topics discussed and also pertinent to the guiding principles of the State Committee on Policies and Objectives for the Department of Elementary School Principals of Missouri which were distributed in dittoed form.

All I said was, "Quite right, Old Girl! Cheerib!"

SECRETARY'S PAGE

TEACHERS SALARIES

The average salary of rural teachers in Missouri for last school year was $697—for all teachers in the State $1241.

How can we expect to attract to and retain in teaching, even in normal times, the most desirable type of individual with salaries such as these.

It is significant to note that teachers salaries last year had increased 4.6 per cent over the pre-war year 1939-40, while the cost of living had gone up 25 to 30 per cent for the same period.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

The Legislative Committee of the Missouri State Teachers Association will meet on Friday, February 18, looking toward the development of a Legislative program for the next session of the General Assembly. Suggestions will be appreciated.

CONTINUING CONTRACT LAW

House Bill No. 63, enacted by the last session of the General Assembly, provides that public school teachers in Missouri shall be notified in writing by April 15 regarding reemployment for another year. If a teacher does not receive a written notification by April 15 of reemployment or dismissal, the teacher is automatically reemployed on the same terms as provided under the old contract, and not later than the first day of May the Board shall present to the teacher not so notified a regular contract the same as if the teacher had been regularly reemployed. Any teacher who shall have been informed of reelection by written notice or tender of a contract shall within fifteen days thereafter present to the Board a written acceptance or rejection of the employment tendered; and failure of the teacher to present such acceptance within such time shall constitute a rejection of the Board's offer. Any contract given a teacher may be terminated at any time by mutual consent of the teacher and the Board.

LETTERS

It is a pleasure to receive letters from our members who are now in the Armed Forces. We are looking forward to again having them in our midst just as soon as the war has ended. The profession needs them. The following letter is typical of those received during recent weeks:

"Somewhere in India at present
January 1, 1944

Dear Everett:

This is the first day of 1944 and I sincerely hope the new year brings total Victory to the United Nations and that every man of our armed forces will be returned to his home by the beginning of another year. May the new year bring continued progress to M. S. T. A. and may all its members have a happy and prosperous year.

I would appreciate a letter from anyone of my good friends in the States.

Terrill School

TERRILL RURAL SCHOOL is situated in Randolph county. This small rural school stands high in the estimation of the patrons of the district. It has a successful school program according to those who are acquainted with its many activities. The progressive little school might attribute its success to the cooperative leadership expressed through the teacher, the school board and the county superintendent of schools. Here is a rural school that actually serves as a focal point of interest and activities for the children and patrons of the district. The school has expanded from a small one-room frame building located on one acre of ground to a two-story building located on a two-acre site. The present building was constructed in 1924.

The school site is ideal for a school building. It is located on the corner of two main traveled, all-weather roads. The building itself is of brick construction, designed by a competent architect. It measures twenty-one feet by thirty-two feet with a full basement. The basement provides a storage room on one side and a coal bin on the other. A roofed front porch adds a homely air to the environment. Concrete steps and sidewalks lead from the front of the basement entrance to the road on either side of the school yard. Flowers and shrubbery may be seen in season beside the porch steps.

The building is lighted throughout by electricity. Both stories of the building are heated by a modern coal air furnace installed only last year.

The building provides modern sanitation for its pupils with indoor toilets and separate cloak rooms for boys and girls.

Many of these conveniences are made possible by the cooperation of the parents and patrons of the district through an active P. T. A. organization. The P. T. A. was organized in 1923 before the new building was erected. Through the efforts of this organization there was constructed a concrete walk and a concrete wall along the front and sides of the building. The P. T. A. has made it possible for the school to have a piano, victrola, window shades and equipment in the kitchen for a hot lunch program.

The P. T. A. meetings are held monthly in the evenings so the men in the district may attend and partake in the social activities. The patrons learn much in this way of the needs of the school financially and also become acquainted with the problems of the teacher and pupils.

School Activities

Even in these days of rationed gasoline and tires the patrons of Terrill school district are still willing to furnish their cars for the transportation of the school children. There are a number of good singers and entertainers among the pupils. They furnish entertainment for churches, teas, civic organizations and other schools in the surrounding territory. They have a three-piece band that is ready to render service at any time. Patrons of the district take time out of their busy hours to sponsor three parties each year for the school children and one picnic is given for them each spring.

The driving force in this school district as in any other progressive school enterprise is the teacher. Mr. John Long has furnished the inspiration and guidance for Terrill School since 1937. He is now finishing his forty-first year of continuous service as a rural teacher. Mr. Long started to school when he was five years old and has been in school either as a student or a teacher ever since. How long? He still just puts one candle on his birthday cake.

After finishing grade school he attended the Old Prairie Academy one year and the Pritchett College one year. With the exception of two summers spent in Kansas City University, all of his college and high school work has been done at Kirksville College, where he was granted a 60 hour life certificate.

Mr. Long takes pride in the fact that he still attends all teachers meetings and keeps his work up to date and sends his graduates into high school well prepared. He has always been a member of the Missouri State Teachers Association.

He has never lost a pupil by accident or sickness while they were enrolled in his school. Sickness has never bothered Mr. Long to any great extent. He has been absent only one day of school in all his teaching career.

Mr. Long has watched quite a transition in the size of rural schools from the time he began teaching. His first school enrolled sixty-eight pupils, his last one seventeen. The first school had pupils in the first grade from five to nine years of age and pupils in the eighth grade ranged from sixteen to twenty-two years of age.

Board of Education

With one exception the Terrill board of education has been the same for the last seven years. The exception was caused by one board member moving out of the district. The board holds monthly meetings and keeps accurate and complete minutes. There has never been a two and one vote. Every question is discussed and when it comes to a vote it is unanimous—either for or against. The board of education knows the value of furnishing good equipment for the teacher and pupils to work with. The district votes a 65 cent levy for teacher and incidental purposes.

WHAT PRICE PEACE?

Victory is SURE. When total victory, with the world at peace may come, no one can predict.

But—there is ONE thing certain. It will bring many post-war problems. There must be a job for every returned service man. Huge plants must not be allowed to shut down, and machines of production rust.

Industry must change over to civilian production. Employment must remain high, as well as purchasing power.

Industrial and civic leaders the nation over are considering those problems NOW. Plans are progressing, surveys are being made. This company, in cooperation with other agencies, is planning for the post-war period, yet lending every effort for winning the war—everybody's present job.

FOURTH WAR BOND QUOTA OVER-SUBSCRIBED

The Strafford consolidated school district had exceeded its Fourth War Loan drive before the official campaign's opening according

L. W. Rader

L. W. Rader, for forty years a teacher and administrator in the St. Louis public schools, died December 25, 1943. He was 81 years old.

Mr. Rader came to St. Louis in 1903 from Kansas City where he was a school principal. He began his teaching career at Carrollton, Missouri.

Myrtle Orme

Miss Myrtle Orme, a teacher in the Blair school, St. Joseph, died unexpectedly of a heart attack January 6, at her home. She had been a teacher in the St. Joseph grade schools nearly forty years.

Miss Orme was born in Nodaway county and had taught in both Stanberry and Clearmont before coming to St. Joseph. She was first assigned to the old Wyatt School there and was transferred to the Blair when the Wyatt building was abandoned in 1930.

Emma O. Mumm

Funeral services for Miss Emma O. Mumm were held Saturday, December 4, 1943, at Heierhoffer's Chapel in St. Joseph. Miss Mumm, who for many years was principal of the Hosea school, died Wednesday, December 1.

L. H. Coward

L. H. Coward, Greene county schools superintendent for the past sixteen years, died January 7, at his home in Springfield.

L. H. Coward

Mr. Coward became ill with pneumonia about three months ago. For a time he was believed recovering but complications appeared and his condition was recognized as critical about Christmastime. He had been unable to return to his office since the first illness.

Born 67 years ago on the farm which his father homesteaded in Greene county near Rogersville, Mr. Coward's entire career was devoted to Ozarks schools. He held his first teaching position in a rural Greene county school when he was just nineteen years of age. Subsequently he was principal and teacher in Fair Grove, Republic, Aurora, Fair Play, Monett, Strafford, Rogersville, Billings and Ash Grove.

Mr. Coward was first elected county superintendent in 1927 and was returned to office for his fifth consecutive term last April. When he took office the county had no classified rural schools; under his supervision sixty-five of the county's eighty-two schools attained first class.

Throughout his superintendency he emphasized school cooperation in community projects and charitable campaigns. This spirit extended to drives connected with the war effort. County schools gained commendation for work in Junior Red Cross and in war bond campaigns.

He was a member of South Street Christian Church and of all Masonic bodies including the Shrine.—Springfield Leader and Press.

HERCULANEUM SCHOOLS ENROLLED 100% IN JUNIOR RED CROSS

The Herculaneum high and grade schools are enrolled 100% in the Junior Red Cross.

The kindergarten made large scrapbooks for Christmas. The intermediate grades made place cards, memo pads and bookmarks. All of these things were made for service men in hospitals.

Some of the high school girls made sweaters for children. The work is being carried on under the direction of Miss Isabel Thomas and Mrs. Boston Barrett.

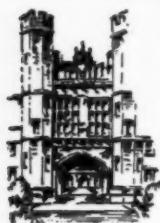

A HELPFUL HINT FOR YOU

Children love to play at things grown-ups do. That is why there may be an idea here for your mothers having a hard time to get their children to eat. . . . We are told that combat troops and munitions workers say that Wrigley's Spearmint in their rations and lunch boxes seems to help them eat with greater appetite just because this welcome treat is there. . . . Our helpful little hint, therefore, is as simple as this. . . . But what a fine time to tell it? With Gum so scarce—it may be a good tip to keep in the back of your head, nevertheless. . . . At present, the War has proved chewing Gum helpful in so many ways to so many millions, it is not odd that a scarcity looms up in a popular, quality Gum like Wrigley's Spearmint.

Under war conditions, we just can not produce more Gum . . . unless we lower our quality which we will not do. So, we urge that every available stick of Wrigley's Spearmint be chewed only when and where it is needed.

PRE-INDUCTION CONFERENCE

A Pre-Induction Conference for men about to enter military service was sponsored by the Kansas City public schools January 12 and 13.

In attendance at the conference, according to J. G. Bryan, director of secondary education, were three hundred boys from the Kansas City Junior College and public high schools, about seventy-five boys from the Parochial high schools, and twenty-five boys from the high school at Independence. All of these boys have reached, or soon will reach, the age of induction. The conference was held for the purpose of further familiarizing them with draft regulations, induction and reception procedures and with other pertinent items concerning military life.

The conference was conducted by a staff consisting of the following: Dr. Herold C. Hunt, superintendent of public schools, Kansas City; Lieutenant John R. Rackley, Headquarters Seventh Service Command, Omaha, Nebraska; Captain Thomas L. Weinsaft, Headquarters Reception Center 1773, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas; Corporal James M. Godwin, Jr., Headquarters Sixty-First Carrier Wing AAF, Sedalia Army Air field; Roy K. Dietrich, Member Selective Service Draft Board No. 11, Kansas City; and H. Roe Bartle, National Executive Director, American War Dads, Kansas City.

For those schools desiring to set up such a conference, help and suggestions may be obtained from Lieutenant John R. Rackley, Headquarters Seventh Service Command, Omaha, Nebraska.

THE EDUCATIONAL ROLL-BACK

EDUCATION IS UNDERGOING a roll-back in several well-defined areas in Missouri.

The teaching faculty in Missouri's public schools continues to be drained off at an alarming rate and the prospects are not brighter.

How to find and develop new teachers to fill the many more vacant chairs at teachers' desks in 1944 and how to hold the good teachers now in service is the number one problem. The theme song of superintendents is fast becoming "My Kingdom for a Teacher."

Qualifications of teachers have been rolled back. Teachers lacking adequate professional training are entering the classroom. Emergency certificates have been issued by the thousands.

One of the most alarming developments is the decline of teacher education. Teacher training institutions are enrolling only about 40 per cent (not including military students) as many students as were enrolled in 1940-41. This loss of new intake will have a pronounced effect. An improved program of teacher recruitment needs to be initiated at once.

Pupils that should be in school are no longer there. They are working; allowing the most precious years of their life to be devoted to earning a few dollars instead of preparing to live a life of usefulness for years to come. Quitting school for the purpose of working may not be aiding the war effort. Colonel Hans C. Adamson of the Army Air Forces who drifted on a rubber raft in the Pacific for three weeks with Captain Eddie Rickenbacker recently stated, "It must be understood that Japan is running out of brain-power, not manpower. The faulty Japanese school system is going to defeat that nation. We must strengthen our educational program. Boys must be kept in school until they are at least 18."

The high schools of Missouri enrolled approximately 10,370 fewer pupils this year than last. The high schools of the nation enrolled over 1,000,000 fewer pupils. We are not keeping school-age youth in the classroom.

An educational roll-back today means less opportunity for peace tomorrow and thereafter.

UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

1944 Summer Session

June 19 to September 9

The 1944 Summer Session is being planned to offer University facilities and resources to all qualified students who may be interested in beginning or in continuing a program of higher education. All Schools and Colleges of the University will be in operation during the summer session.

During these times when education, specialized training, and research are such significant factors on both the war and the home fronts, you are urged to investigate the advantages which are made possible by this University Summer Session program.

Special Opportunities for Teachers and School Administrators

In recognition of the acute shortage of trained teachers, and of the fact that the official closing date of the summer session conflicts with the opening of the fall term in the public schools, the School of Education and the Graduate Department of Education have organized four summer session terms.

1. April 24—June 2. A six-week term for rural and elementary school teachers.
2. May 22—June 17. A four-week term for town and city school teachers and administrators. Graduate work will be emphasized.
3. June 19—July 29. A six-week term. Complete offerings will be available for undergraduate and graduate students on all levels.
4. July 31—August 26. A four-week graduate session will be available.

You are invited to write to us about the summer session and your educational problems.
